PERSONAL PROFILE

Hello, my name is Alkin Maystorov. I am a Front-End focused Web Developer, knowledgeable in backend technologies and services such as Node and Firebase. I love building Websites and Web Applications using contrasting web technologies and solving problems for different niches and industries using the power of technology. Clean code and the room for never-ending improvement excite me and keep me wanting to learn more. I aim to find a role as an intern/junior web dev and work together with a team that I can get along with to grow the company name. I would love to hear from you, whether it's a project, job opportunity, or just a chat. All of my projects can be found on my Github, and feel free to contact me.
